

Vinyl's Vampires

STRAIGHT BASQUES OF SILKS ARE NEW.

By ANNE RITTENHOUSE.

Special Correspondent of The Star.
NEW YORK, April 15.—The majority of women are disappointed in that there is nothing strikingly new for evening wear among the new French gowns; and yet if one searches through the great mass of clothes that have been sent over here from Paris this year, searches with a lantern as did Diogenes for an honest man, one stumbles across some charming idea which is not only different from what has been, but which may be a significant straw that shows what will be.

There is the cartridge skirt which many people erroneously call the barrel skirt. It is a novelty. It was espoused by both Callot and Lanvin and, although the American women say they do not like it, it will undoubtedly be one of the smart features of the late spring season. Lanvin accentuates it and Callot modifies it, and the American copies are in miniature.

The layman may not understand what is meant by the cartridge skirt, so it may not be tiresome to take up space to explain that all kinds of garments usurp this name if their material is arranged in round, open pleats, the shape of a huge cartridge. Lanvin takes taffeta, for instance, and making a skirt of it, arranges it in large, open cartridge pleats touching each other and extending upon the edge of the bodice so that they form the shape of a huge cartridge. Elizabethan era. Lanvin also makes a hat, which is shown at the smart 5th avenue houses here, of the same material, because, on the brim and crown of this straw, she has placed in the form of a plaque across the crown and extending as far out as the brim a cartridge arrangement of Gobelin green silk net.

When Is a Skirt a Barrel Skirt?

The barrel skirt is something different; and it is not well understood in this country, because the name has been casually given to others; but the actual skirt is rare. Every dealer in clothes will show you something that he calls a barrel skirt, and often it has no more relation to a barrel than a hen to a palm tree.

All you have to keep in your mind when you're hunting this skirt is that it is shaped like a barrel, small at both ends and distended in the middle with bands of material going around the figure to represent the hoops of the barrel. That's simple enough, isn't it? These two novelties, the cartridge skirt and the barrel skirt, have not been featured before either in France or in this country, and it is well to fix your mind upon them as a kind of thing that may prevail later on, even though at the present moment were indulging in a riot of Louis XV and Louis Philippe skirts.

The enormous distension of the hips is not new, at least in New York, where this kind of skirt has been worn on the stage since last November, but the French dressmakers have accentuated it, and, naturally, we are following as

MORE STRENGTH FOR FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

If all the old people in Washington realized what Vinol will do for them, they would be able to get enough of it to supply the demand. We quote from a recent letter received from Mrs. A. E. Carson of Kingston, N. Y.

She says: "I am 69 years of age, and have been ailing for a long time with indigestion. I got run-down, was weak, dizzy and could not sleep at night. I consulted two doctors who said I had hardening of the arteries and at my age could not expect to be strong again. My daughter would give me no peace until I tried Vinol, as it had done so much for her. I have taken five bottles and my health and strength have come back, so I am able to do all the household work for my family of four, and I am recommending Vinol to all my friends."

The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor, viz: the medicinal elements of fresh cod livers without oil, pectate of iron, beef pectone, and a
